Report:-An orientation session on Soft Skills was conducted by the IQAC and the Placement Department on 18th October 2023 at 9:00 AM. This orientation session was to basically make the students of the third year aware of the soft skills which will be required by them during the job. The session was held in association with TNS Foundation, an NGO who provide placement opportunities to students in the BFSI sector and the training provided to the students is free of cost. The session was led by the resource person, Ms.Saumya Nair. The resource person started her orientation with a short introduction on the meaning of soft skills, further dividing skills into soft skills and hard skills. Soft skills determine the behaviour, the emotions and feelings of an individual. It evaluates the thinking that is the critical thinking of a person. She further added that soft skills play a vital importance in obtaining a job during any kind of job interview. The resource person stressed on building good communication skills with people around. The resource person then moved on to talk about the importance of controlling one's own emotions. She explained the importance of balancing the IQ (intelligent quotient) and EQ (emotional quotient) as they function in the same manner. According to her, emotionally intelligent person are the ones who have a strong sense of self-control in any situation. Emotions also require self-awareness. An individual must know how to control and must be aware of the different variations of emotions that he/she experiences. It is also vital for an individual to understand and respect the emotions of others and also possess the quality of empathy towards others. However, understanding another's emotions must not cross the required boundaries especially in the professional field. The resource person concluded her orientation by stating that soft skills must consist of self motivation, positive thinking with the right attitude towards every problem and to eradicate negativity. She states that if we have a negative attitude our success rate will go sliding down but if we have a positive attitude we are going to have 100% success in our lives. Having a positive attitude will take us where we want to be in life. Most of us are knowledgeable and skilled in our own area but if we have a negative attitude we will not excel. A negative mindset will be an impediment in our growth personally and professionally. The resource person ensured the students that the training which will be provided to them will be free of cost. The session ended with an encouraging speech given by Dr. Sakshi where in she encouraged the students to take the training as it will be beneficial in the future for them only.

Report

The Placement Committee at Clara's College of Commerce organized a one-day expert talk on the "Pitfalls of International Education" on December 19, 2023, in the college auditorium. The seminar commenced with a welcoming address by Ms. Samina Choudhary, who introduced the guest speaker, Dr. Priyanka Rajani. Dr. Rajani, representing an international education consultant (IEC) agency operational for the past decade with sponsoring partners from nine countries and headquartered in Dubai, began by elucidating the prevalent risks associated with fake universities, agents, agencies, and websites. She emphasized how IEC assists students in realizing their dream of studying abroad, providing comprehensive support from inception to fruition.

Dr. Rajani highlighted financial challenges as a significant concern and detailed the agency's approach to analyzing these implications. The talk delved into exploring potential sources of aid and scholarships, addressing the long-term financial considerations inherent in pursuing an international education. Additionally, language barriers were identified as a unique set of challenges. Dr. Rajani shared insights on overcoming linguistic hurdles, enhancing language proficiency, and emphasizing the pivotal role of language in academic success and social integration.

The expert talk also addressed work and visa challenges integral to international education. Dr. Rajani provided advice on navigating the foreign job market and understanding the complexities of work visas and employment opportunities. The impact of immigration policies on post-

Report on 'ExcelR'
Date: 10/01/2024
Venue: Online Mode
Time: 07:00 PM to 09:00 PM
SDP/FDP: SDP
Name of the resource person: Mr. Rizwan Shaikh

Objectives: The programme is designed to enhance the learning and research skills of the participants, to make them aware about modern innovations in AI. It provides an opportunity to acquire knowledge about current technological developments in relevant fields. The primary goal of artificial intelligence is to develop a technology that will capacitate computer systems to perform independently of human intervention and intelligently. Data analytics has become increasingly important in the enterprise as a means to analyze and shape business processes, and to improve decision-making and business results.

No of Beneficiaries: 114

Organizer IQAC

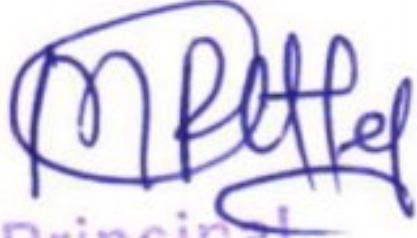

Report:

- Data analytics is the collection, transformation, and organization of data in order to draw conclusions, make predictions, and drive informed decision making. Data analytics is often confused with data analysis.
- Artificial intelligence is based on the principle that human intelligence can be defined in a way that a machine can easily mimic it and execute tasks, from the most simple to those that are even more complex. The goals of artificial intelligence include mimicking human cognitive activity.
- Data science is the study of data to extract meaningful insights for business. It is a multidisciplinary approach that combines principles and practices from the fields of mathematics, statistics, artificial intelligence, and computer engineering to analyze large amounts of data.

Outcome:

- Students will become proficient in the statistical analysis of data and the use of computation tools for data analysis. Students will apply statistical and computational tools to applied problems, and clearly communicate the results in both written report and oral presentations.
- Develop systems that process unstructured, uncurated data automatically using artificial intelligence (AI) frameworks and platforms. Determine the framework in which AI bot may function, including interactions with users and environments. Design and implement cognitive automation for different industries.

Report on Follow up Session on Soft Skills

Date: 17/01/24

Venue: Room No 57, 4th Floor

SDP/FDP: SDP

Name of the resource person: Ms. Asha Salian

Objectives:- Placement opportunities in the BFSI sector

No of Beneficiaries - 39

Organizer :- IQAC & Placement Cell

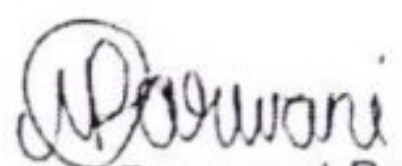

Report:- A follow up session on Soft Skills was conducted by the IQAC and the Placement Cell on 17th January 2023 at 8:00 AM. This follow up session was to basically make the students of the third year aware of the job opportunities in the BFSI sector. The session was held in association with TNS Foundation, an NGO who provide placement opportunities to students in the BFSI sector and the training provided to the students is free of cost. The session was led by the resource person, Ms. Asha Salian. The resource person started her orientation with a short introduction on the meaning of soft skills, further dividing skills into soft skills and hard skills. Soft skills determine the behaviour, the emotions and feelings of an individual. It evaluates the thinking that is the critical thinking of a person. She further added that soft skills play a vital importance in obtaining a job during any kind of job interview. The resource person stressed on building good communication skills with people around. The resource person then moved on to talk about the importance of controlling one's own emotions. She explained the importance of balancing the IQ (intelligent quotient) and EQ (emotional quotient) as they function in the same manner. According to her, emotionally intelligent persons are the ones who have a strong sense of self-control in any situation. Emotions also require self-awareness. An individual must know how to control and must be aware of the different variations of emotions that he/she experiences. It is also vital for an individual to understand and respect the emotions of others and also possess the quality of empathy towards others. However, understanding another's emotions must not cross the required boundaries especially in the professional field.

The resource person concluded her orientation by stating that soft skills must consist of self motivation, positive thinking with the right attitude towards every problem and to eradicate negativity. She states that if we have a negative attitude our success rate will go sliding down but if we have a positive attitude we are going to have 100% success in our lives. Having a positive attitude will take us where we want to be in life. Most of us are knowledgeable and skilled in our own area but if we have a negative attitude we will not excel. A negative mindset will be an impediment in our growth personally and professionally. The resource person ensured the students that the training which will be provided to them will be free of cost. The session ended with an encouraging speech given by Mr. Amit Bansod where he encouraged the students to take the training as it will be beneficial in the future for them only.

Report on Investment Banking

Date: 23/01/24
SDP/FDP: SDP

Objectives:- To make understand about investment banking
Organizer :- IQAC & Placement Cell

Venue: Room No 57, 4th Floor

Name of the resource person: Mr. Mitul Mewada

No of Beneficiaries :- 76

Report: A session on investment banking was held for the SY & TY students in association with Imarticus Learning, where in the speaker Mr. Mitul Mewada gave an overview on investment banking and how it works. Sir spoke about what is investment banking? What is merchant banking?, etc. Investment banking is a financial services sector that involves helping companies and governments raise capital by underwriting and issuing securities, facilitating mergers and acquisitions (M&A), providing advisory services, and managing various financial transactions. Investment banks act as intermediaries between companies that need capital and investors looking to deploy their funds.

Investment banking is a special segment of banking operation that helps individuals or organizations raise capital and provide financial consultancy services to them. They act as intermediaries between security issuers and investors and help new firms to go public. Investment banking pertains to certain activities of a financial services company or a corporate division that consist in advisory-based financial transactions on behalf of individuals, corporations, and governments. There can sometimes be confusion between an investment bank and the investment banking division (IBD) of a bank. Full-service investment banks offer a wide range of services that include underwriting, M&A, sales and trading, equity research, asset management, commercial banking, and retail banking. The investment banking division of a bank provides only the underwriting and M&A advisory services.

Report on Awareness and Demonstration Session on Road Safety Conducted by Regional Transport Office and United Way Mumbai

Date: 1st February 2024

SDP/FDP: SDP

Class – All Classes

Objective: The primary objective of the program was to raise awareness among students about road safety rules and regulations. The training aimed to educate participants on safe driving practices, responsible pedestrian behavior, and the importance of following traffic law.

Number of Participants: 115

Organizer: NSS & IQAC

Report

On February 1, 2024 Road Safety Training program was conducted at Clara's College of Commerce, Versova, Mumbai, in collaboration with the Regional Transport Office (RTO) and the non-profit organization United Way Mumbai. The IQAC department and NSS unit of the college collaborated in organizing the event.

Guest Speakers:

- Santaje Barge, Motor Vehicle Inspector, RTO
- Hanumant Gele, Assistant Inspector, RTO
- Priyanka Nirwan, Assistant Inspector, RTO
- Mr. Roshan Kate, United Way Mumbai
- Mr. Sujit Patil, United Way Mumbai

Program Highlights:

- The program commenced with a welcome address by the Principal, Dr. Madhukar Gite
- Mrs. Ruchita Pandhare introduced the esteemed guests.
- Mr. Roshan Kate and Mr. Sujit Patil from United Way Mumbai conducted the training session.
- The session covered various aspects of road safety, including:
 - Traffic rules and regulations
 - Safe driving practices

A REPORT ON COMPLETION OF AN ADD ON COURSE ON Database Management System

Report on Add On Course on Database Management System (DBMS)

Date: 05th February to 12th February , 2024

Time: 11:00 am to 2:00 pm

Duration : 10 Days

SDP/FDP: SDP

Class: All Classes

Mode: Offline

Number of Participants: 64

Department : IQAC & All Departments

Resource Person: Ms. Dhanashree Adam

Clara's College of Commerce conducted an Add-on course on DBMS (Database Management System) from 05th February , 2024 to 14th February , 2024. Following were the objectives of this course:

Objectives:

1. A key objective of a DBMS is to maintain data integrity. A DBMS enforces rules and constraints on the data, ensuring that all data is accurate and consistent.
2. Data security is critical in any DBMS, as it helps to protect information from unauthorized access and modification.
3. Data independence means that the upper levels in DBMS are unaffected by the changes made at the lower levels.
4. DBMS follows ACID property, which makes sure the database always remains in a good state.
5. A DBMS can be programmed only to allow unique values in a specific field, preventing duplicate entries.

Report:

Sessions were conducted from 11:00 am to 02:00 pm (03 hours) everyday, following topics have been covered each day:

Day 1. Introduction to DBMS

Day 2. Entity Relationship Model

Day 3. Relational Model

Day 4. Functional Dependencies

- Day 6. File Organization
- Day 7. SQL
- Day 8. Relational Algebra
- Day 9. Transactions and Concurrency Control
- Day 10. ER Model

A database is an organized collection of information. A database management system (DBMS) allows entering, storing, manipulating and retrieving information organized into databases. DBMS is a collection of programs that enable users to create and maintain a database. The DBMS is hence a general purpose software system that facilitates the processes of defining, constructing and manipulating databases for various applications. Database management system (DBMS) consists of a collection of interrelated data and a set of programs to access that data. The collection data is usually referred to as a database which contains information about one particular enterprise.

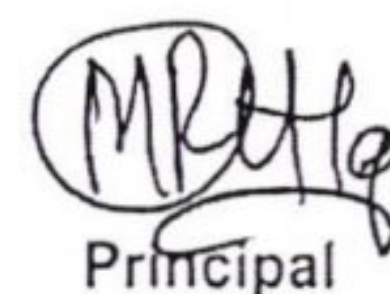

Outcome:

1. Improved data integrity and consistency.
2. Improved data accessibility and control.
3. Reduced data redundancy and inconsistency.
4. Provides a platform to access and share data faster.
5. Better data backup and recovery.

Report on Add-on Course on Fundamental Knowledge of Mathematics & Statistics
Date: 2nd March 2024 to 22nd March.024
Duration: 30 hours
SDP/FDP: SDP
Class: All Classes
Mode: Offline
Number of Participants: 60
Department: IQAC & All Departments
Name of the Resource Person: Mr. Surendra Choudhary.

Objective: The College provides an array of Add-on opportunities to the students, with the central objective of supplementing their academic curricula even as they pursue their own university courses within the stipulated period. The objectives of the course was to provide participants with a strong foundation in mathematical and statistical concepts.

Introduction:

Clara's College organized an Add-on course from 2nd March 2024 to 22nd March 2024, focusing on Fundamental Knowledge of Mathematics & Statistics. The course aimed to equip participants with a thorough understanding of essential mathematical and statistical concepts applicable across various fields. Mr. Choudhary, a highly esteemed academic renowned for his extensive experience in teaching mathematics and statistics, was the resource person for the course. His expertise and interactive teaching approach significantly contributed to the program's success. Mr. Choudhary's talent for simplifying complex concepts and engaging students was particularly noteworthy. The course spanned 30 hours, attracting enrollment from approximately sixty students, all of whom successfully completed the program.

Course Structure:

The course was structured to cover a wide range of topics over the 10 days duration. Each day was dedicated to specific themes, ensuring a systematic approach to learning.

Day 1: Fundamentals of Mathematic- Basic Arithmetic Operations

On the first day students are taught to understand and apply the symbolic representations of algebraic operations including addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division. The lesson began by introducing the concept of algebraic operations and explaining to students that algebraic operations involve addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division, represented by specific symbols. Provide examples of each operation and guide students through solving them step by step. Sir, encouraged the students to attempt solving problems independently and ask questions as needed and also distribute worksheets with algebraic expressions for students to practice.

Day 2 : Foundation of Mathematics

On the second day, Sir taught the learning of squares, linear equations, and quadratic equations encompassing developing foundational mathematical skills, problem-solving abilities, and the ability to apply mathematical concepts in various contexts, laying the groundwork for further study and real-world applications. Overall, these concepts form the building blocks of algebraic thinking and are essential for further study in mathematics and their practical application in diverse contexts.

Day 3: Vedic Mathematics

On the third day, Sir stressed out the importance of Vedic math and he elaborated in Vedic mathematics, students have learned ancient techniques for quick and efficient mental math.

Principal

Claras College of Commerce
Yari Road, Versova,
Andheri (V.), Mumbai-400 061.

These methods cover arithmetic operations like addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division, employing innovative approaches such as digit sums and sutra-based techniques. Vedic math emphasizes pattern recognition and mental math strategies. Vedic mathematics enhances students' calculation speed and accuracy, equipping them with valuable skills applicable in academics and everyday life.

Day 4: Trigonometry Knowledge

Mr. Choudhary covered key aspects of trigonometry, including trigonometric ratios like sine, cosine, and tangent, along with fundamental identities and methods for solving triangles. He emphasized graphing trigonometric functions and their real-world applications in determining distances, angles, and heights. Additionally, students learned techniques for solving trigonometric equations using inverse functions and identities, providing a solid foundation for practical and mathematical use.

Day 5: Graph & Bar Diagram

Mr. Choudhary Sir, provided instruction on graph and bar diagram representations, where he emphasized understanding the basics of graphing, including plotting points, labeling axes, and interpreting data. He also explained the construction and interpretation of bar diagrams, illustrating how they visually represent categorical data. Throughout the lessons, additionally, practical applications of graphs and bar diagrams were demonstrated, allowing students to analyze and interpret data sets across various disciplines.

Day 6: Numerical Analysis

Mr. Choudhary Sir provided instruction on graph and bar diagram representations, where he emphasized understanding the basics of graphing, including plotting points, labeling axes, and interpreting data. He also explained the construction and interpretation of bar diagrams, illustrating how they visually represent categorical data. Throughout the lessons, Mr. Choudhary underscored the importance of clear presentation and accurate labeling to effectively convey information. Additionally, practical applications of graphs and bar diagrams were demonstrated, allowing students to analyze and interpret data sets across various disciplines.

Day 7: Use of Mathematics in Business

Mr. Choudhary Sir, highlighted how math drives business decisions, covering financial analysis, optimization, and decision-making techniques. Through ratio analysis, trend analysis, and forecasting, students learned to analyze financial data effectively. They also explored mathematical models for optimizing processes, resource management, and strategic planning, equipping them to make informed decisions crucial for business success.

Day 8: Mathematics for Research Methods

Sir taught advanced research methods in mathematics, covering hypothesis testing, data analysis, statistical modeling, and mathematical software. Through practical projects and discussions, students developed critical thinking skills essential for conducting mathematical research effectively.

Day 9: Operational Research

He provided condensed instruction in Operational Research (OR), covering topics like linear programming, network analysis, queuing theory, and inventory management. He emphasized optimization techniques such as integer programming and dynamic programming, showcasing their practical applications in decision-making. Through practical exercises and case studies, students gained valuable problem-solving skills for addressing operational challenges effectively.

Day 10: Financial Mathematics

Financial Mathematics was taught covering key topics like interest rates, simple and compound interest, annuities, and loan amortization. Students learned about present and future values, aiding in investment evaluation and financial decision-making. Practical applications such as budgeting and retirement planning were emphasized, providing valuable skills for financial management.

Participant Feedback:

Participant feedback was overwhelmingly positive, with many expressing appreciation for the course content and Mr. Choudhury's teaching methods. Key highlights from the feedback include:

- Clear explanation of concepts, making them easy to understand.
- Engaging activities and practical examples that enhance learning.
- Interactive sessions that encouraged participation and collaboration.
- Relevance of the course content to participants' academic and professional endeavors.

Conclusion:

The Add on course in Fundamentals Knowledge of Mathematics & Statistics at Clara's College, facilitated by Mr. Choudhary, was a resounding success. Participants gained valuable insights into mathematical and statistical principles, equipping them with essential skills for their academic and professional pursuits. The College looks forward to organizing similar programs in the future to continue promoting excellence in education and skill development.
